NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Portland, Oregon, Seacoast Railway Company will be held at the Company's office, 670 Worcester Building, in the city of Portland and State of Oregon, at 3 o'clock, on Saturday, the 26th day of October, 1907, for the following purposes:

FIRST. To increase said Company's capital stock, now $500,000, to $1,100,000, and when such increase of capital is approved by said meeting of stockholders to issue not more than 11,000 shares in all of $100 each for the total 200 miles of railway to be built and owned by it, apportioned as said meeting of stockholders shall direct.

SECOND. To ratify, confirm and approve of contracts heretofore made under authority from said Company's Board of Directors for the sale of 100 miles of this Company's first mortgage five per cent bonds, and also of the deed of trust or mortgage securing payment of same to the holders of said bonds.

THIRD. To ratify, confirm and approve in whole or in part of contracts, or any portion thereof made by said Board of Directors for the construction of this Company's first 100 miles of railway, commencing at the Lewis and Clarke river, and at Clatsop station Oregon; westerly therefrom and easterly to the Willamette river near to Portland, and FOURTH. To transact and consider whatever other business may be brought before said meeting, of which notice is hereby given to stockholders of said Railway Company.

(Signed) H. HAWGOOD, of Los Angeles, California, President. William Reid, of Portland, Oregon, Secretary of Portland Oregon Seacoast Railway Company.

Dated at New York, September 13, 1907.

LAUNDRIES.

THOSE PLEATED BOSOM SHIRTS The kind known by dressy men in the summer, are difficult articles to launder nicely. Unless you know just how to do it, the front pleats won't iron down smooth, and the shirt front will look messy. Our New Press Ironer irons them without rolling or stretching. Try it. Heavy Seas Block Shipping Across the Bar.

STORM AWAY OUT ON OCEAN

This is Given as Reason of Huge Breakers Coming in Over the Bar Last Night. Swells Run Many Miles up the Columbia River.

Heavy seas on the bar at the mouth of the river yesterday afternoon and evening prevented a number of ships and going to sea, among them being the Costa Rica, bound for San Francisco from Portland. This steamer came down in the afternoon and tried the bar a couple of times, but the captain soon saw that it would be a dangerous proceeding to attempt to cross it.

Breakers mountains high came curling in with the flowing tide at a terrific rate, and broke with force enough to damage large ships. The oil tank steamer Ascension, bound for San Francisco, tried the bar twice yesterday afternoon, but was compelled to give up the attempt to cross it, and remained at anchor in the harbor all afternoon and evening.

The Costa Rica came back to the O. R. & N. Wharf last night about nine o'clock and tied up for the night, giving a large number of passengers a chance to visit Astoria. She will make the trip this morning if the bar is calmer.

The remarkable part of the roughness on the bar is the fact that the weather has been ideal for several days. The huge swell that sometimes shows up on the opening of the river, without any warning, is something that has never been explained among the seafaring men, so far as can be learned. A storm far out at sea is given as the cause by the pilots.

When the weather is bad the bar is sometimes as smooth as it can be, and there is no regularly about the condition of this nuisance to the shipping to the Columbia river. The tide was unusually high yesterday and the breakers all along the Coast were enormous. At Seaside the waves came in and washed away a portion of the new board walk, the high tide and the waves making a grand spectacle for quite a number of visitors at the beach. The strength of the waves may be imagined when the Costa Rica, at the O. R. & N. dock last night, heaved and fell as though she were in a storm. All the time there was no wind and the water was apparently calm. The fact that it is over eight miles to the mouth of the river will give some conception of the power behind the waves last night.

The Renondo, carrying freight and passengers, is due to arrive down the river this morning from Portland for Seattle.

The steamer Breakwater is due in the harbor today from Coos Bay with freight, and passengers.

The Norwegian steamship Elsa, with a cargo of lumber for Shanghai, went to sea yesterday.

The steamer Nome City, with a cargo of lumber for California, went to sea yesterday.
